

What a year. Wow, what a great year for all of us here at Hollingsworth Performance and we hope every one of our customers feels the same. I could sum this article up in just a matter of sentences with saying we have 122 total reported wins this season and 7 championships. But that wouldn't portray the kind of season it really has been. Based off of the nearly 27 weeks we run in Indiana, and crunching some numbers, I found an average of a little fewer than 5 wins a weekend. That number is astonishing in my opinion. We salute everyone in our win column but point out special notice to Andrew Peters, Jeb Sessum, and Jeremy Camp who topped the column all with 10 wins this season. We also salute our multiple champions. Six track champions and one series champion rode a Hollingsworth motor to their ultimate goal, being number one in their respective ranks. Andy Hogan and Ashley Reagan did the double at Cowtown Speedway in Kennedale, Texas winning the 600 A-class and Restrictor class, respectively. Brandon Morin of Jasonville, Indiana won with a 237 point margin in the restrictor class in Linton, Indiana over second place in the points of Zach Teike, also running with a HPE. Just about 170 miles northeast of Linton, is the location of Peru, Indiana, home to Miami County Speedway, site of yet another championship in the hands of Logan Jarrett, multi-class champion. You don't have to travel too far, just one state west of Indiana, to find our next champion. Jeremy Camp won the POWRi Racing Micro Sprint Series on the last night of racing for the series in Belleville, Illinois after eclipsing long time point leader and well known midget driver, Andrew Felker, in the points series. I left Jake Rosario last on my list for one reason, he accomplished one very special season, winning not one, but TWO track titles both at Port City located in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He claimed the Outlaw and A-class championships this year. Oh and speaking of Tulsa, Oklahoma, there is quite big race coming up in late December some of you might of heard of, called the Tulsa Shootout! Nothing like getting out of the horrific and freezing weather and gathering inside the QuickTrip Center for some HEATED racing action and the possibility of claiming the bragging rights as shootout champion for a whole year. Get those motors in and let's add to the win column at the 26th Annual Tulsa Shootout!! From all the guys at the shop, thanks for such an amazing season!
